Relationships, Sex and Health Education Policy Parent Consultation

Dear Parents and Carers,

I am writing to you following the above consultation that closed on 16th October 2023.

Below I have summarised the results and comments from the parent survey.

I think 'Personal, Social and Health Education', which includes Relationships, Sex and Health Education (RSHE) is an important part of my child's education. *

I think it is important that, in school, my child learns about different aspects of relationships, including what a positive, healthy, caring, safe relationship looks and feels like on and offline. *

8. As a parent/carer, are there any specific topics in terms of Relationships, Sex and Health Education, you feel you would like more information on?

- Important that the children need to know how to keep themselves safe and know who to talk to if there is a problem.
- No, the information is very thorough and insightful.
- More Pantasaurus type information in particular. All ages should know about which parts are private not just 6-7 as per the curriculum.

9. Are there any changes or additions you feel you would like considered in terms of the PSHE policy (which includes RSHE) or curriculum we deliver?

- It is important that the children learn about the world we live in and that being different is okay.
- No, it is very thorough.
- No input needed
- No, I am happy with the way that RSHE is taught in my children's' school
- More Pantasaurus type information.

10. If you have any additional comments that you would like to make, please complete below.

- Children seem to like the Jigsaw programme.
- It all seems age-appropriate and carefully planned with both education and personal health and wellbeing considered.
- I am very pleased that children are given the opportunity to learn about LGBTQ+ families. I've no doubt that some parents will be opposed to this, especially with all of the anti-trans policies being churned out by the government now. I am happy and relieved that my children will be taught about all kinds of different families and relationships.
- More Pantasaurus type information in particular. All ages should know about which parts are private

Can I take this opportunity to thank those parents who responded over the two week consultation period and gave us their views on our RSHE curriculum. The feedback for the Jigsaw programme has been incredibly positive.

With best wishes,

Doug
