

What does CURIOSITY look like at Old Town Infant School and Nursery?

- We love learning about new things.
- We can ask great questions to develop our understanding.
- We can wonder 'why'?
- We want to find out more.
- We enjoy being creative and 'thinking outside the box'.
- We explore, investigate and seek answers for ourselves.

What does RESPECT look like at Old Town Infant School and Nursery?

- We have kind hands, feet and use kind words.
- We take turns and share.
- We listen to the thoughts and feelings of others.
- We celebrate similarities and differences between people.
- We take pride in the achievements of others.
- We have good manners and treat each other how we would like to be treated.

What does RESILIENCE look like at Old Town Infant School and Nursery?

- We always try our best and are ambitious with our learning.
- We persevere when things are difficult.
- We don't give up easily.
- We know what to do when we are stuck and keep a positive mindset.
- We believe that we can get better at things.
- We can resist distractions.

What does INDEPENDENCE look like at Old Town Infant School and Nursery?

- We take care of our own needs.
- We are able to do things by ourselves and can seek help if we need it.
- We can make good choices and take responsibility for our own decisions.
- We encourage and celebrate everyone's individuality.
- We can make improvements and learn from mistakes.
- We can ask questions to help us learn.

Curious Cam

Respectful Remy

Resilient Rex

Independent Izzy